Be creative!

- Many people are finding luck finding supplies when they call around to local pharmacies (family owned, in grocery stores or department stores), hardware stores or businesses and industries not associated with healthcare, including nail salons, tattoo shops and automotive shops. Make connections with others who may be searching for PPE, too.

- If you are looking for hand sanitizer, many distilleries have changed their production to make and package hand sanitizer.
- CareMongering groups are popping up on Facebook in many communities and are a great resource for information, support, supplies and connections.
